Disaster Assistance Available for Small Businesses

Sacramento, CA – Small, non-farm businesses in 12 Nebraska counties (plus neighboring counties in Colorado, South Dakota and Wyoming) may now apply for low-interest disaster loans from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA). “These disaster loans offset economic losses because of reduced revenues caused by drought, winds and a late freeze beginning January 1, 2007,” announced Alfred E. Judd, Director of SBA’s Disaster Field Operations Center - West.

Small businesses in the following primary and neighboring counties may apply:

Primary Nebraska counties: Banner, Box Butte, Dawes, Kimball, Scotts Bluff, Sheridan and Sioux

Neighboring Nebraska counties: Cherry, Cheyenne, Garden, Grant and Morrill

Neighboring Colorado counties: Logan and Weld

Neighboring South Dakota counties: Bennett, Fall River and Shannon

Neighboring Wyoming counties: Goshen, Laramie and Niobrara

Small businesses may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) of up to $1.5 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred. “Eligibility for these working capital loans is based on the financial impact of the disaster only and not on any actual property damage. These loans have an interest rate of 4%, a maximum term of 30 years, and are restricted to small businesses without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship,” Judd said.

By law, SBA makes EIDLs available when the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture designates an agricultural disaster. Secretary Mike Johanns declared this disaster at the request of Governor Dave Heineman.

Businesses primarily engaged in farming or ranching are not eligible for SBA disaster assistance. Agricultural enterprises should contact the Farm Services Agency (FSA) about the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) assistance made available by the Secretary’s declaration. However, in drought disasters nurseries are eligible for SBA disaster assistance.
